SAFETY DRIVING CAMPAIGN
BY A.M.A. WINS SUPPORT

Campaign for safety in driving, waged for some years by the Alberta Motor Association, has won responses in various parts of the province.

In different centres, police officers are taking steps to carry out brake testing operations and otherwise to see that machines operating on the highways are in proper shape mechanically.

Now that the summer driving season will soon be in full swing, fresh warning to motorists, is sounded by the A.M.A.

Congested highways, besides such factors as high speeds and recklessness, and possibly strange roads, all combine to make the summer driving period the most critical in the year.

Appeals to both drivers and pedestrians for observance of safe driving and walking in order for the first time to end the seasonal increase in traffic accidents, have been made south of the international border, where press and radio are being utilized in a "mid-year" safety campaign. Last year traffic fatalities rose steadily until the figures for August were 50 per cent greater than the toll for February.

The A.M.A. has issued a list of nine safe driving rules, which if observed, will keep a lot of motorists out of trouble this season. These include: "Keep your car in sound condition; keep your car under control; keep your eye on the road; don't mix liquor, worry or anger with gasoline."

DOMINION DAY SPORTS FAVORED BY WEATHERMAN

The annual Dominion Day sports held in Blaimore on Wednesday were favored by the weatherman to the best of his ability. The programme, lengthy and interesting, was ably handled and carried out to a very successful conclusion. With the exception of boxing, practically all items on the programme were entered and competed.

The West Canadian Collieries' band was on hand promptly at 9.45 a.m., and throughout the day added greatly to the attractiveness of the Blaimore programme with enlivening airs.

LOUIS-SCHMELING FIGHT. PICTURES ON PREVIEW

The management of Cole's theatre is to be congratulated on securing for such an early showing, the Joe Louis-Max Schmeling fight pictures, and fans will be given an opportunity to see for themselves just how it happened in the greatest upset in ring history of recent years, when these pictures, showing the all-important action in slow motion, will be exhibited at a preview on Sunday next, July 5th, just sixteen days after the battle, starting at 12.01 midnight, being preceded by the feature of the evening's program.

These pictures will be shown again next week end and teamed up for both shows with "Rendezvous," starring William Powell and Rosalind Russell.

Featured for this week end is "Robin Hood of El Dorado," the spectacular outdoor feature with Warner Baxter as the star, a company of more than 200 Hollywood players lived for three months in the lovely "mother lode" country of the California mountains where millions in raw gold were found in the days of '49.

The picture deals with the adventuresome life of Joaquin Murietta, dashing good-bad man of the frontier days who rode a trail of vengeance through the American mining settlements.

Produced by John W. Considine, Jr., and directed by William Wellman for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, the cast includes Baxter and such favorites as Ann Loring, Bruce Cabot, Margo, J. Carroll Nash and Eric Linden.

DOMINION CHAMPIONSHIPS

For the first time in history, the youth of Alberta are given the opportunity of competing for Canadian championship honors within this province, the National Junior Track and Field Championships of the A.A.U. of C. being scheduled to take place in Wetaskiwin on August 11th and 12th, under sanction granted to the Alberta branch of the A.A.U. of C., and to be conducted by the Wetaskiwin Amateur Athletic Association.

Competition is open to boys under 19 years of age on date of the Meet.

At the same time and place, the Provincial Track and Field Championships of the Women's Amateur Athletic Federation of Canada (Alberta branch) will be staged, senior, intermediate and junior divisions.

Another feature of the two-day sports fest will be several Highland dancing competitions for boys and girls 16 and under 13 years of age.

For information or entry forms, apply to K. W. Orr, secretary, or B. W. Bellamy, director, Wetaskiwin Amateur Athletic Association.

Entries close on July 25th.

U.M.W. vs. A.F. of L.

The controversy between craft unionism and industrial unionism, which is warming up in the United States, is having its repercussions in Glace Bay, the Gazette of that town reports.

There is a suspicion in U.M.W. circles that an effort is being made to establish a craft union at the Dominion Coal Co's shops in Glace Bay, and they profess to see in it the hand of William Green, head of the American Federation of Labor and exponent of the craft movement.

What the situation amounts to has not yet developed, but the U.M.W., which is naturally hot for the industrial phase of unionism, is taking it seriously and threatens a strike if shop matters are not adjusted to its liking.—New Glasgow Free-Lance.

An important business deal was put through here this week, in which the meat market business of Henry Zak was taken over by G. Sartoris.

The store will in future be managed by Rudolf Yelko.

McDONALD—BRACKMAN

An unusually pretty wedding took place Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock in Mount Calvary Lutheran church, when Miss Betty Brackman, of this city, was united in marriage to Mr. Leonard McDonald, of Blaimore. Rev. W. A. Radecke read the marriage service.

Traditional white satin formed the bridal gown, cut on Princess style which fell "en train." A lace motif featured the cowl neckline and was carried out in the sleeves, which came to points over the hands. Her tulle veil was caught in cap-style with clusters of orange blossoms. She wore slippers of white satin and silver, and carried a bridal bouquet of Madam Butterfly roses and white sweet peas.

The bride's only attendant, Mrs. W. D. Irvine, was gowned in pale blue printed chiffon, with which she wore white accessories. Her arm bouquet was composed of a sheaf of gladioli and the same color note was carried out in the flowers worn in her hair.

The bride entered the church, to the strains of the Bridal Chorus from "Lohengrin," played by Miss E. Werth. Her brother, Mr. Ronald Brackman, gave her in marriage. The bridegroom was attended by Mr. Albert Botter, and the ushers were Mr. Albert Brackman and Mr. Eric Brackman.

Mrs. Dahm received the bridal party at a reception for the immediate friends and family, which was held at the bride's home. The bride's mother chose a black gown in cut velvet and a shoulder spray of roses.

For travelling, the bride changed to a printed navy silk dress with fingertip taffeta coat. Her accessories were grey and white. After a short honeymoon in the mountains, the couple will reside in Blaimore.—Calgary Herald.

The groom is manager of the Blaimore branch of Safeways Limited.

COOVER - TURNER NUPTIALS

The United church at Hillcrest was the scene of a very pretty wedding at 4 p.m. on Wednesday, July 1st, when Irene M. Turner became the bride of Cecil R. Coover, of Coumts.

The pastor, Rev. John Wood, performed the ceremony.

The bride was given away in marriage by her step-father, before an altar banked with beautiful garden flowers and ferns. White daisies centered the pulpit, and the guest pews were marked with bows of white satin, carrying dainty sprays of baby's breath.

The bride looked lovely in a floor-length gown of pale pink georgette crepe, cut on princess lines, with a shirred bodice and long full sleeves.

She wore a matching picture hat and white shoes and gloves. Her bouquet was of pink butterfly roses.

The bridesmaid, Miss Margaret Grant, looked charming in a dress of pale yellow net, with white hat and gloves, and carrying an arm bouquet of pink and white carnations. Angus Grant supported the groom.

Mrs. John Wood played the Wedding March, and during the signing of the register Miss Audrey Martin sang "At Dawning."

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where the bride and groom received with the bride's mother and father, and the groom's mother, Mrs. M. Coover, of Coumts.

About forty guests sat down to the beautifully appointed table, which centred with a three-tier wedding cake and decorated with pink tapers in silver candlesticks and white carnations.

Mr. and Mrs. Coover will in a few days to reside in best wishes of the entire community.

For their future happiness.

ANGLING LICENSE FEES NOT RAISED

Fees for angling licenses for non-residents of the province will be $2.25, the same as for residents, and will not be raised to $3 as earlier intimated. Information setting the fee at the lower figure is contained in a letter sent out with the books of licenses to all vendors of permits, signed by R. T. Rodd, director of fisheries.

D. A. Richardson, local fisheries inspector, pointed out that while the fees are the same, non-residents must obtain a permit to fish in such lakes as Chestermore, where only coarse fish exist, and for which no angling permit is necessary for Alberta citizens.—Calgary Albertan.

London's Latest Fad

Pictures Made From Butterfly Wings Are All The Rage

London society's latest fad is pictures made almost entirely from butterfly wings. "Buali," the artist has been buying old collections of these wings. He has completed a portrait of Queen Mary in the new medium. The dress consists of 600 butterfly wings, all taken from collections as far back as 1865. A striking portrait of Princess Elizabeth, entirely from butterflies caught in the nineteenth century has been bought by the Duchess of York. Subjects that lend themselves particularly to this type of art are ships, angel fish, period costumes and coats of arms. Some of the costumes require 1,000 wings.

Friendship Of A Dog

Many People Consider It A Thing To Be Valued

A teacher in an Eastern city absent herself from her classes a day and a half because of grief over the death of a pet dog. A doctor is quoted as saying that "any teacher who cannot bear up under the sorrow of the death of a dog is in no physical shape to teach school."

People who have dogs, or who have lost them, will not all assent to this view. In many homes the dog is a real "person," a member of the family circle, a friend as well as a pet. Some say that affection should not be lavished upon dumb animals, but the fact is that they inspire affection, and give, in return for it, a grateful faithfulness which human beings do not always exhibit.

It is quite possible that a school teacher, losing one of these friends, would, whatever her physical condition, be incapacitated for her duties. Whether the resulting absence should be at her own or the municipality's expense is another matter altogether. But it is a sad case to suppose that the death of a dog will not seriously affect normal people to whom it has been companion and friend.

Pioneer Navigation

Voyage From England Took Five Months To Early Days

Britain's Commander R.M.S. Queen Mary is a long way removed from the "Tweed," the ship by which he first left England's shore after Mrs. Fisher, 78-year-old pioneer to this country, who celebrated his birthday at Saltcoats, Scotland.

Seventy-one years ago—two years before Confederation—Mr. Fisher disembarked at Quebec from the four-masted schooner on June 18. The boat had set sail on January 10, five months and a week before.

During the 71 succeeding years Mr. Fisher has seen a varied life in Canada. A Northwest Rebellion veteran, he saw service in South Africa and enlisted for service in the Great War. He also spent some years with the Mounted Police Force.

Only seven when he crossed the ocean, Mr. Fisher recalls vividly the welcome change in diet which Quebec fruit made after five months of salt pork. His seventh birthday two days after landing was a riot of fun amidst a pile of logs on the old wharf. These things stick in his mind, he says.

The Canadian Nickel

When King's Head Changed Other Side Could Be Improved

While the Bank of Canada, the nature of its notes, and the question of the images and superscriptions to be employed on Canadian money are under discussion, we may as well record our view, on aesthetic grounds, that the first Canadian coin to be altered by the substitution of the head of the present monarch for that of his predecessor should most decidedly be the large nickel. The obverse of this coin in its present design is probably the ugliest and cheapest-looking impression to be found in the entire British Empire. Considering that the coin is made out of one of Canada's most important metal products, and that it is one which we all have to use a great deal, it ought certainly to be a piece of work of which the nation can reasonably feel proud; whereas nobody with any aesthetic sensibilities can possibly feel other than grieved about the present Canadian large nickel.—Toronto Saturday Night.

Many Divorces

All Divorce Applications Came From Quebec This Year

Divorces granted by parliament this session totalled 40, an increase of 10 over last session, Senator Leonard McMeens (Cons. Winnipeg) told the senate. All the divorce applications had come from Quebec province, he said.

Divorces were granted this session to 11 husbands and 29 wives.

Solar Eclipse Observations

Radio Impulses Are Reflected To Earth By Sun Radiations

Indications that the earth's electrified roof, which many miles above the surface of the globe, reflects back radio impulses, is formed mostly as a result of ultra-violet sun radiations appeared in preliminary results of the solar eclipse observations.

Prof. Boris Gerasimovich, head of the Soviet eclipse expeditions, said he had been informed that indications of a decisive influence of these radiations in the formation of the electrified roof or ionosphere had been obtained in a quick examination of results. He warned, however, that the information still had to be checked.

Prof. K. Kessenik, head of the Soviet expedition at Tomak, said a great change was noticed in the behaviour of the ionosphere beginning 15 minutes before the total eclipse, when the audibility of radio signals was sharply increased.

The new star of the constellation Cepheus was seen clearly by astronomers at Ak Bulak.

Italians Honored

Dr. Marconi, Inventor Of Wireless, Is Named Rear Admiral

Dr. Guglielmo Marconi, inventor of wireless telegraphy, was named a rear admiral of the Italian navy by Premier Mussolini. Il Duce also appointed Baron Pompeo Aloisi, Italian delegate to the League of Nations, to the rank of rear admiral. Marshal Emilio de Bono, who commanded the first stages of the Italian campaign against Ethiopia, was made a Chevalier of the Grand Cross of the Military Order of Savoy.

Snake Worship In India

Many Families Encourage Practice To Live In Home

It is strange but true that millions of people in India worship snakes—live snakes of every variety. Not only are there snake groves in every little village, but in some homes the family snake roves about the hearth un molested. The Indians' Millions give some authenticated facts.

Here snakes are encouraged to dwell, in order to ensure freedom for the family from many evils and misfortunes—leprosy, and the invasion of the house and garden by harmful snakes. The lack of children is another of the misfortunes entailed by any failure to perform regular worship in honor of the family snakes.

There is a "serpent grove" where the worshipper may repair. Shrines are in the form of a hooded cobra, carved from granite. Sacrifices and elaborate ceremonies attend its installation upon a low platform.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

JULY 5

THE COMING OF THE HOLY SPIRIT IN POWER

Golden text: Ye shall receive power, when the Holy Spirit is come upon you; and ye shall be my witnesses both in Jerusalem, and in all Judea and Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth. Acts 1:8.

Lessons: Acts 1:6-14; 2:1-47. Devotional readings: John 16:7-14.

The Continuing Spirit of Christ, Acts 1:6-9. The apostles were met with their risen Lord on the Mount of Olives. The question they there asked him, if at that time he would restore the kingdom to Israel, shows that even then they were unable to rid themselves of the common Messianic expectation of the Jews that the Christ would rule over a Jewish kingdom independent of Rome and herself dominant, politically and religiously, over the other nations of the earth.

"It is not for you to know times or seasons which the Father hath set within his own authority," returned Jesus, and then he promised them power through the Holy Spirit, and gave them his great commission: they were to be his witnesses in Jerusalem, in all Judea and Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth. The Acts record the story of how Christ continued his work through his followers. The "uttermost part of the earth" was represented by Rome, the capital of the Empire, the place where, as Ireneus said, "All met from every side of the world when he had said these things, as they were looking, he was taken up; and a cloud received him out of their sight."

The Day of Pentecost, Acts 2:1-11. When the day of Pentecost was come (Pentecost means fiftieth; it was the fiftieth day after the Passover), the disciples were all gathered together, when suddenly there was a sound as of a mighty wind, and upon each of them appeared tongues as of fire. The wind and the tongues of flame—shall we take them literally or as a picture? In the Greek (in which the Acts was written) the word for spirit means wind or breath; and the expression tongues of fire, the symbol of the Holy Spirit, was used (Mt. 1:1) as if well known.

The apostles were "filled with the Spirit," but they did not suddenly become perfect Christians. They aspired to a life of elevation and purity, and they were conscious of the presence and guidance of the Spirit, and ultimately they aspired to be controlled by the whole being. Henry Drummond has said that probably most of the difficulties of trying to live the Christian life lie in attempting to half live it. He who tries to wholly live the Christian life is "filled with the Spirit."

To Protect The Public

More Intensive Drive To Eradicate Tuberculosis Is Urged

A concerted campaign aimed at eradication of tuberculosis was urged by Dr. W. H. Hatfield addressing the convention of the Canadian Tuberculosis Association in Vancouver.

"More money is spent on police than on nurses. It seems more important to protect the public from bullets than from microbes, although microbes kill more people in a year than bullets ever will," he said.

At the same time there were 150 delegates to the annual meeting of the State and Provincial Health Authorities of North America. Dr. J. J. Heagerty of Ottawa told them that quarantine stations could safely be abandoned.

"Quarantine could be boarded at the dock, and smaller quarantine units could be substituted for present stations. Money saved could be used to safeguard health of the nation in other ways," he said.

Dr. J. G. Townsend, director of health for the United States office of Indian affairs, said the Indian death rate from tuberculosis was five times as great as for whites, and the disease was 10 times as prevalent in Indian territory.

Dr. W. Council, health commissioner for Alaska, said that 21 per cent of deaths amongst Indians and whites in his territory are caused by tuberculosis.

"The only solution for the problem is more thorough hospitalization," he said.

Horses Shipped To Scotland

From the stables of well known breeders in Southern Alberta, 62 head of horses, Clydesdales and Perths, were shipped to Perth, Scotland. Several prize winners were included in the shipment. The animals brought from $165 to $250 a head. Freight and charges to destination amount to another $100 a head.

"What do you think of Shelley?" asked the highbrow of his friend. "Don't you think he employs too many metaphors?"

"Yes," said the friend, who had no pretension to cleverness. "I think he ought to give Canadian workmen a chance sometimes."

Great Skill Required

People Who Produce Miniature Marvels Also Have Keen Eye

A new miniature marvel has recently been attracting attention—the world's tiniest steam engine, which is no bigger than a pen nib. The Hungarian who made it, says it runs perfectly. He spent many hours making it out of odd bits of metal and wire, and had to discard numerous parts which were vital fractions out.

This ingenious model is an interesting comparison with what was apparently the previous smallest of all trains. Mr. J. Martin, of Westminster, London, made a miniature engine and christened it Silver Jubilee; he added two coaches and a guard's van, and the whole train measured no more than four inches. This remarkable model was built solely of gold and silver. Its creator, aged 85, inserted mechanism by which the train could travel at a rate equivalent to two and a half miles a year.

For the world's most striking working unit we must turn to Nebraska, United States, where Emanuel Kehm has devised an electric motor capable of some 500 revolutions a second, but which is small enough to rest upon a man's fingernail without overlapping it. Some of the 58 parts of the motor, are made of gold, and the whole engine, weighing a quarter of an ounce, depends upon a vital link in the shape of a thin strand of cotton as small as a hair.

Also no larger than a fingernail are the excellent portraits drawn by Mr. A. H. Khagivala, of Poona, who presented a drawing to the late King George during Jubilee year. He also made such an etching for King Edward VIII.

To conceive these things an exceptionally keen eye is essential, but even greater skill is required to split a bank-note—which is a thousandth of an inch thick—in two. Yet there was a forgery charge recently against a "man who did this, and even passed the two halves off as genuine, nearly getting away with it, too. There has been no other case like it in England.

But there is no doubt that where miniature marvels are concerned, the palm must be handed to Mr. Jules Chabronneau. His exhibition of 24,000 miniature objects a few months ago was the fruit of 35 years' collecting and three trips around the world.

He has the Lord's Prayer engraved on a pin head!

To Serve The Prairies

Milk Condensery Being Built At Red Deer, Alberta

Building has been started at Red Deer, Alberta, for the first milk condensery in the Prairie Provinces. The Central Alberta Dairy Pool, Ltd., is initiating this enterprise, and Hon. W. N. Chant, Minister of Agriculture, turned the first sod. It is expected that the condensery will be ready for operation late in July. While some of the larger dairies have condensed milk for the ice cream trade, this is the first condensery on the prairies to put up evaporated milk for the household trade.

A Mechanical Watcher

Electric Eyes Can Detect Approach Of Enemy Aircraft

Electric "eyes" capable of "seeing" fifty miles away will keep a look-out for the approach of enemy aircraft in the next war. The mechanical watcher has been invented by a Chicago soldier-chemist, Mr. A. A. Armyn, who is of German nationality. The "eyes" will pierce fog and smoke screens, it is claimed, and when they sight enemy aircraft they can direct fire on them.

Had Ample Proof

Doubting recent reports that a centipede swallows its young, A. E. Davis and his sons, Jack and Austin, checked up on them when they found one of the insects near Yass, Australia. When they picked it up it had a young centipede half-way down its throat. It swallowed five. The mother was five and one-half inches long and the young ones were an inch long.

FLEMING'S FOLLY

— BY —
LAWRENCE A. KEATING

His arms were firmly bound behind him. Mell, his usually mask-like face lined with revengeful hate, fisted close. "Yuh low down snake!" he snarled. "I've killed yuh, Fleming—I was lookin' for yuh an hour back. But this'll do just as well. Maybe better. Turned back robber, eh? Well, you ain't gettin' away with it!"

"Where's Stephen?" someone asked. "Out o' town. We better hurry before he gets back!"

The lariat threaded through the ring fell and struck the rancher's shoulder. Eager hands seized it and fixed the noose. "Gyp, you tie this to yore saddle. When I give the word—ride!"

Then he saw Gyp Vaile. Link started. His eyes went round and he gasped. For Gyp Vaile, the trouble maker at the dam, he who was Kilgo's henchman, was dressed in a dark checked shirt and corduroy trousers. Gyp Vaile had been with Berrens in that holdup!

A moment of quiet descended on the throng. Main Street was packed with men in a fifty-yard circle from the pole. Heads kept bobbing up, angry faces bearing the bitter imprint of aroused hate and grim determination to carry this through. There seemed no quiet descended on the throng. Main Street was packed with men in a fifty-yard circle from the pole. Heads kept bobbing up, angry faces bearing the bitter imprint of aroused hate and grim determination to carry this through.

At twelve . . . Link's heart sank. At twelve he would be swinging lifeless from the flagpole.

"All set there?" Gyp swung a heavy thigh over his saddle. He picked up the reins and gestured for men to move out of his path. The rope stretched from the noose around Fleming's neck to the eye at the pole top, thence to the saddle horn of the leery creature.

"I'm ready," Vaile growled. "Then string him up!" yelled Kilgo.

"WAIT!" A lithe, lissome figure burrowed through the crowd. With outflung hands Helen Hamilton snatched the bridle of Vaile's horse and strode to the beast as it took a step forward. Before anyone could prevent her, she plunged to Link's side, twelve feet away. Something gleamed in the sunlight and there was a quick swish of a knife. The rope close above his mass of brown hair slipped and fell on his shoulder.

"He's not guilty!" the girl cried, and threw herself in front of him. "Men, this is murder—cold-blooded murder! You shan't do this to—"

A curse drowned her last words. Kilgo reached for her arm to jerk her away, but missed. His fist knocked the knife from her hand and sent it spinning into the dust.

Helen backed, against Link spreading her arms protectively. But Roper, his face ashen, grabbed at her. "Get away from there!" he commanded, and tugged roughly. "We're goin' to lynch that lobo and yuh can't stop it!"

She struggled to get free of him. Link, tussling with his bonds, watched in helpless rage. Suddenly there came the sharp sound of cloth tearing. By chance Helen had ripped the Box 50 owner's grey flannel shirt. Something green was exposed . . . and Roper, sensing it, put his hands to the spot and glanced down.

Helen uttered a gasp. "Why, it's money!" She shot a swift look at Link.

There was a split second's pause as all eyes fixed on the burly rancher hurriedly stuffing the packet of bills in a brown pigskin wallet back into his torn shirt.

"That's our cattle money!" Fleming roared.

CHAPTER XIX.

If the crowd had been in turmoil before, it was bedlam aroused now. Buried under the low alkali, Roper gulped hard, strove to think of something, but, like a small boy caught rifling the jam closet, was not.

Not so the plucky girl! She spun around and her hand flashed to the man nearest her. A gun glinted, its blue-black barrel catching the sunbeams as she thrust its muzzle hard against Kilgo's stomach.

"You held up Link!" she cried accusingly. "Don't move or I'll kill you!"

The crowd froze. By some quirk of much psychology it was as if she held a gun pointed at the stomach of every individual present. All eyes held on Buzz Hamilton's sister as with her glossy chestnut hair disheveled, her face white, her chest rising and falling with excitement. And the exercise of the muscle she held them spellbound with the curve of her forehead over the trigger of the gun.

"That's Link Fleming's wallet! Why, it has his name right on it. Isn't that yours?"

"Yes." She did not avert her eyes from Kilgo as she spoke. "Mulrooney, you tie Link free. Quickly! Seth Howell, are you in this plot to lynch an innocent man? Can't you believe now that someone held Link up?"

"It was Gyp Vaile—grab him!" At the Star Loop owner's command Vaile whirled and started to run. Seconds ticked past without a move made to halt him. Then, uttering a guttural curse, Gus, the pink-faced bartender from the Half Moon, whipped round a gun from under his soiled apron. It cracked once and a spurt of dust rose close behind the fleeing man. Again it roared.

Vaile's arms flung up. His below the waist carried back to the stunted throne before the jail as he spun on one heel—and fell.

As if by magic the crowd began slowly to melt away. Uncertainty and puzzlement were on every face. "Yuh mean Vaile stuck Link up, took his sister's money, then gave it to Kilgo? But what was Gyp doin' in the bank?"

"Chased them, maybe. I uh—believe me, gentlemen," Otto Pieper spoke up in a voice that trembled. "I had no knowledge of that—er, miscreant's doings, and I sensed that Link and his men were searching the town. So Waco Byrne just informed me."

Link, free at last, looked up. Some instinct caused him to turn his head. Helen's head drew to her throat in a gesture of fear. A way widened through the crowd as if by magic. And ten paces away, standing at ease but with his weight evenly distributed on both feet, waiting was . . . Jackpot Mell.

His eyes were brittle and gleaming as he looked at the girl. He twitched a hand dangling at his side with ominous significance.

"Link," he rasped in harsh, hateful tones, "I'm waitin'!"

Fleming scarcely heard the words. He was unconscious of the ripple of gasps over the crowd, melting away. A weight made itself known, and looking down he saw in dull surprise that someone had slipped a forty-five into his holster. Waco Byrne.

He swallowed to ease his throat, suddenly gone pushed and dry. Through his brain flashed repetition of the thought he had had those last few days: that never before had he faced an opponent so quick as Jackpot Mell. Seven men had gone to their death at the roar of his flaming gun. Would he be number eight?

Strangely, he felt no fear, but a great calmness. And overpowering curiosity as to what was going to happen. Cool, his eyes fixed unwaveringly on Mell's whole six-foot gaunt figure as they became hot, and he blinked. The wait seemed lengthen into years. In reality it could not have been more than ten seconds.

Jackpot's right hand moved. With the speed of a streak of light the Star Loop owner plunged for his gun. As he freed he knew with chagrin that Mell had drawn first by the margin of a clipped second. He felt a hot, jabbing sensation in his left shoulder, heard his sixgun roar its second time as Jackpot fired again and again. Then staggering from the collision of slug and flesh, Link whirled and fell.

But he was not out. He tightened his hand fingers around the Colt and jerked onto his left elbow. His paining eyes sought desperately to focus on his enemy.

Mell was a mere heap of clothing in the dust.

"Link! Link!" Helen started toward him but suddenly halted, and vivid new fear sprang across her face.

For Roper Kilgo, his florid countenance deeper crimson than ever before, had been the first man to the side of Jackpot. Now he straightened, and a bull-like roar of fury burst from his fat lips. His hand jabbed for his gun. Whipping it out, he fired.

Wham! The first shot speeded dust into Fleming's face and eyes. All but blinded, he was gripped by red rage at the cowardly tactics. With a great effort he climbed dazedly erect and retreated. Sighting hurriedly, he sent a bullet timed to the nth degree—with Kilgo's second shot.

An Interesting Document

Shows Generosity Of Indian Chiefs To British Major

After 158 years' document signed by 13 Indian Chiefs giving 5,000 acres upon which part of the city of Detroit, Michigan, now stands to Mayor Arnt Schuyler De Peyster, British commandant to Detroit in 1780, for nothing, has been returned there.

Two Detroiters, who wish to remain anonymous, purchased the document from Maggs Bros., London dealers in rare books and manuscripts, and brought it back home.

Detroit citizens felt that the bargain while men made when they got the letters of Menzies from the Indians for $24 was bettered here with the deed to 5,000 acres free.

The Indian Chiefs who made the land over to Major De Peyster, each drew a picture to represent his name or tribal sign, the pictures representing a deer, an arrow, a wigwam. One of them looks much like a recumbent insect, if that term can be applied to a bug helplessly waving its legs in the air.

The transfer took place before Detroit became American territory and in the midst of the revolution.

Whoever made out the conveyance, however, must have been skilled in the parlance of law, for he apparently gave poor Indians no loophole to which they might take back their gift. One line of the contract mentions about all the Indians in existence and even some that might crop up in the future.

Major Arnt Schuyler De Peyster was an American Tory from New York City with an admixture of French blood. He is described by George Catlin in "The Story of Detroit" as "an accomplished man and social favorite," his American and French origins, however, prejudiced him in the eyes of Britain, and he lost the Detroit post.

Going to Dundries, Scotland, he drilled soldiers for the Napoleonic wars. One of his recruits was Robert Burns, to whom he showed unusual kindness during the poet's last illness. It is said Burns' last poem was addressed to De Peyster as a recruit.

Not Opposed to Television

American Publishers Do Not Think Broadcasting Will Take The Place Of Newspapers

Elisha Hanson, general counsel for the American Newspaper Publishers' Association, told the communications commission at Washington he did not believe that at present television or facsimile (still photograph) broadcasting would take the place of newspapers.

The 400 newspapers which he represents, he said, are not opposed to "facsimile" or television because either or both might compete with newspapers.

Appearing before the commission which is conducting a fact-finding investigation into the future of radio, A. H. Kirchoffer, managing editor of the Buffalo Evening News and vice-president of a radio station owned by the newspaper, said television "could not hurt newspapers" but would be used "to supplement newspaper service."

R. D. Lemert, vice-president of the De Forest Television Corporation of Hollywood, Calif., told the commission that he and Dr. Leo De Forrest had been actively experimenting with television for several years and asserted they now could transmit "from 240 square inches and show up to 600 square inches per minute at a normal speed on a facsimile picture."

Under questioning, he said this would equal 12,500 words a minute.

Lead Poisoning Dangerous

All Painted Articles Should Be Kept From Children

Confirming the report of Dr. J. R. Ross, of the Hospital for Sick Children, at the Canadian Chemical convention, Niagara Falls, that several Toronto babies have died recently from lead poisoning after biting painted articles. Dr. Alan Brown, chief physician at the Hospital for Sick Children, expressed the belief that there were many more cases than are recognized.

"We usually have half a dozen or so cases a year," Dr. Brown explained. "The warning was that people with babies in the home should keep them away from painted articles, even the woodwork, and should pay attention to the paint on cribs."

Lead poisoning from paint causes encephalitis, or inflammation of the brain tissue. "The lead gets into the blood stream, then into the brain, and even into the bones," said Dr. Brown. "You can detect it in the bones by the X-ray, and it stays there for years."

Lead-painted articles are particularly dangerous for young children, Dr. Brown emphasized.

"Quite often 60 per cent. of the paint used around homes is made up of lead. It is often on cribs and carriages, and the baby bites it during teething periods. They eat the paint from the sides of their beds, even the window sills and the paint off their toys. Only baked-enamel articles are safe."

The main symptoms of lead encephalitis are convulsions, Dr. Brown explained. "Whenever we have a case of encephalitis now we examine them for lead poisoning in the brain."

Seeks Fame And Fortune

Chinese Boy Seeking Way To Hollywood

Consider the case of Eng Wing Koon, hanger-by the pigtail extraordinary, who seeks to make fame and fortune in Hollywood.

Koon is crossing the continent by swinging from his pigtail, dangling in chosen spots, the idea is to gather money and pay his way to choice hanging scenes further west.

He learned the art in New York, he told state police at Bloomingdale, N.J., who were so naive as to question his travel technique.

All he needed was a soap box to stand on until he got his pigtail tied to an overhead lamp-post or tree limb, he explained.

He hung by his pigtail for about five minutes in Bloomingdale, then lowered himself to the ground and started passing the hat.

The inquisitive state police took him to the county jail at Bonton and asked their colleagues in New York about him.

"Hold him," came the reply. "We are looking for some Chinese murderers."

But Eng was no murderer. The police contacted his father at 70 Bayard street and learned that Eng, far from being a fugitive, sought the limelight of publicity.

So the police gave him a free night's lodging. He proceeded to pigtail his way to Hollywood.

Used On Emergency Issue

Head Of Baden-Powell Once Appeared On Postage Stamp

Lord Baden-Powell, now in his 80th year, has one claim to fame which most of his contemporaries know about, says London. Answer: He is the only living Englishman not of royal blood whose portrait has appeared on a postage stamp. It was during the siege of Mafeking. All the stamps had been used and no portrait of Queen Victoria was available from which new ones could be prepared. So, without consulting "B.P." an emergency issue was made on which his head had been reproduced.

Plans have been submitted for spiral roadways around the Eiffel Tower in Paris to enable automobiles to climb to a restaurant on the second platform, about 400 feet above street level.

England is experimenting with a new variety of hops, which is expected to be especially suited for brewing stout.

A Question Of Luck

Dionne Sisters Have Fortune While Other Children Lack Necessities

Doubtless Dr. Allan Dafoe deserves the fame which has accrued to him through his successful treatment of the Dionne quintuplets. Film producers are not to be unduly censured if they esteem it profitable to invest hundreds of thousands of dollars in the future earning capacity of the five over-publicized infants.

Is there not, however, a question of values here, the kind of question which breeds skepticism in the intelligent young? A current news item refers to "the thousands of people who made unselfish offers of help to the babies in the early days."

Those "unselfish offers" indicate a laudable conduct of human sympathy. They also indicate the disproportionate generosity of an emotional mob.

Five infants receive wealth such as their parents never dreamed of possessing, simply as a reward for being born. The rest of the Dionne family need worry about their normal requirements for the rest of their lives," announces the Ontario Minister of Welfare. Whether that is fundamentally beneficial remains to be proved. Everyone will agree that it is good to feel financially secure. No need to be apprehensive about the supply of the quintuplets.

Yet—there's a brave little youngster at the corner of Main Street, a lad of twelve, who trudged about in a pair of shoes in the middle of winter, running errands and shoveling snow after school hours, who would like to go to college some day, but probably won't be able to finish high school. A child with an intellect, his teachers say, a child who is educated, but they are "on relief," and it's very cold when there's no fuel to light the kitchen stove. The last time it was lighted the mother made all the flour they had into doughnuts, which the little girl hawked around the neighborhood.

Sometimes the little boy and the little girl wonder why no "unselfish offers" from a sentimental public come showering down on them. It was a mistake to come singly. They should have come in fives.—Christian Science Monitor.

A Valuable Collection

Stamps Belonging To Late King George Worth Small Fortune

King Edward has directed that there should be no relaxation on the part of Sir Edward Bacon, curator of King George's stamp collection, in maintaining the standard of the wonderful collection. King George built up, states the London Daily Sketch. From the point of view of Empire examples, it has not a parallel. It was a hobby in which King George found much pleasure and was keenly interested for a pre-arranged stay—at Balmoral, Sandringham or Windsor—books of his stamps went too. The Royal hobby was known all over the world, and many additions to the collection were due to the thoughtfulness of fellow collectors in other countries. As an example, when the day and night air mail service across the United States was opened, R. H. Wilcox, head of the post-office division of the Customs House, himself a stamp collector, thought of the King, and sent a letter by the first mail for his Majesty. The value of the Royal collection is stated to be several thousand pounds.

Aims At Complete Record

A complete pictorial record of every Indian tribe on the continent will soon be undertaken by Winold Reiss, artist and designer of Montreal. Mr. Reiss, an authority on customs and arts of the North American Indian, has spent much of his life studying the tribe of Indians known as the Blood or Piegan of Alberta.

Little Helps For This Week

Turn ye to the stronghold, ye prisoners of hope. Zech. 9:12.

O power to do: O baffled will: O prayer and action, ye art one. Who may not strive may yet fulfill!

The harder task of standing still. And good but wished with God is done.

That God has circumscribed our life may add a peculiar element of trial, but often it defines our way and cuts off many tempting possibilities that perplex the free and strong; while it leaves intact the whole body of spiritual reality "that if we know these things, happy are we if we do them." We know that God orders the lot, and to meet it with the energies it requires, and permits neither more or less, to fill it at every available point with the light and action of an earnest mind even if this action, happy, is what in that condition we have to do.

No Necessity For Speeding

Time Gained Is Usually Not Worth Thinking About

There is no necessity for people to be rushing about the province at 30 miles and more per hour. In Great Britain the Pedestrian Association, has set a flinty face against speeding, and is clamoring for a country-wide limit.

Most of the road accidents there O here are due to speeding, and the association examined the circumstances of a large number of accidents due to this cause. It found that the time sought to be gained was usually a matter of a few seconds. We in Manitoba can be equally certain that 90 per cent. of the speeding on our highways lacks any legitimate excuse.—Winnipeg Tribune.

Evidently Had Good Appetite

Queen Elizabeth Enjoyed Meal Of Pork And Peas

Reference is made in the June issue of "The P.L.A. Monthly" to "The London Tavern" in the City; it dates from Plantagenet times and began as "The King's Head."

"Queen Elizabeth left her forced sojourn in the Tower of London in May, 1554, four years before she ascended to the throne, and on her way to Richmond went into the old church of Allhallows Staining (near the site of the Tavern) to offer thanks for her deliverance from captivity, and then went to The King's Head where she ate a solid meal of pork and peas. The metal dish and cover used on the occasion are treasured at "The London Tavern" today."

Rest And Change

Man Must Follow Nature's Example To Do Best Work

The earth itself teaches us the necessity of rest and change. During the snows and frost of winter life dormant. In rest it gathers force for the rejuvenating processes of spring. We must follow the earth's example, and gather force in rest and recreation, or we can no more go on growing and gaining in strength and power than it could go on producing the grains and fruits and vegetables of summer and autumn without an annual rest.

CANADA'S ANNIVERSARY

The Dominion of Canada came into being on July 1, 1867, and each year on that date the people of Canada celebrate the anniversary of the birth of a new nation on the North American continent.

Henrik Van Loon, the gifted Dutch writer, calls North America the "fortunate continent" because it is fertile and well equipped with forests, minerals, rivers and lakes, and also because of its inland plateaus.

Canada, occupying the north half of the continent, can be considered blessed for all the natural advantages the country possesses and also for the further advantage of having a peaceable and well-disposed neighbor.

The Dominion has an area of 3,684,725 square miles, this being larger than the area of the United States, including Alaska. Canada's area comprises 27 per cent of the British Empire.

From east to west Canada extends 3,185 miles, from the strait of Belle Isle to Queen Charlotte Islands.

Canadians have a splendid country. Right now it is in travail but this condition will not last forever. The Dominion has great problems to solve and vast difficulties to overcome, but the former are soluble and the latter surmountable.

When adjustments are made and humanity adopts a policy which provides less for selfishness and more for the general betterment of all, Canada will once again start forward.—Ex.

LIONS AND ANTS

Once a hunter met a lion near the hungry critter's lair, and the way that lion mauled him was decidedly unfair, but the hunter never whimpered when the surgeons, with their thread, sewed up forty-seven gashes in his mutilated head; and he showed the scars in triumph, and they gave him pleasant fame, and he always blessed the lion that had camped upon his frame. Once that hunter, absent-minded, sat upon a hill of ants, and about a million bit him, and you should have seen him dance! And he used up lots of language of a deep magenta tint, and apostrophized the insects in a style unfit to print. And it's thus with worldly troubles: when the big ones come along, we serenely got to meet them, feeling valiant, bold and strong; but the weary little worries with their poisoned stings and smart, puts the lid upon our courage, make us gray, and breaks our hearts.—Walt Mason.

Norma Dancocks, seven-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Dancocks, of Red Deer, was successful in winning $25 in the Toronto Star's "Canada's Loveliest Child" contest. There were 11,764 entries, and Norma stood in the group that took seventh.

WHY DAILY?

Premier, Aberneth and his cabinet have after due consideration and careful deliberation decided that "Prosperity Bonds" are Alberta's way out. Why Daily?

It is now many weeks since "Prosperity Bonds" were announced as the panacea for all our ills, yet Hon. Wm. Aberneth has during these weeks allowed the unemployed and recipients of relief to go on as they had in the past, and still dangles the hope of "Work For Wages" before them.

Now if the Premier and his ministers have satisfied themselves that they have the solution to our problems why the delay? Why all the running up and down the province and all the talk? Why not go ahead and put into effect their purpose, and if it be the cure-all that its sponsors claim for it, they need have no fear of the reception it will receive at the hands not only of the Social Crediters but by the citizens of the whole of the Province.

The continued ballyhoo has of necessity created in the minds of the people a suspicion that the Government is not just sure of the ultimate success of their plan.

Premier Aberneth as an ex-school teacher will no doubt have often used for the guidance of his pupils the old blackboard motto, "Be sure you're right, then go ahead."

We would earnestly commend the motto to the Hon. Mr. Aberneth for his consideration.—Innisfail Province.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

Watch Your Background

The young lady on the right seems to have sprouted wings, or is she about to be seized by birds of prey? These pictures illustrate the importance of observing backgrounds before you shoot.

SOMETIMES we amateur photographers, in trying to catch outdoor "offguard" pictures of our friends, especially of children, take too little thought of the picture's background. We rush to the most convenient "shooting" point, take a haphazard aim and pull the trigger, as it were, much as if we feared being actually shot ourselves if we did not act quickly.

Too often we find that after all we did not win the skirmish because we discover when the picture is developed that in our haste we have included in the background some unpleasantly dominating or distracting object, or one so placed in relation to our subject as to create a photographic illusion that makes him look ridiculous. We find the angel face of Baby Ann competing with an overturned garbage can, or plump Aunt Julia seeming to be the pedestal of a flag pole, or we behold Uncle Henry grinning from ear to ear, but what care! Each has been magnified to donkey-like proportions by the tips of fence pickets.

Such poorly composed pictures we may treasure just the same and say

In parody that "It is better to have shot and lost than never to have shot at all," which may be true, but certainly we are not proud of them as examples of our ability to make artistic photographs.

Instead of taking chances with these "offguard" pictures, it is worth while to stalk the subject until he voluntarily moves to a more scenically attractive place, or, if he does not move voluntarily, to entice him there. Even then we should take notice of what is behind him before snapping the picture, lest we include some large object that will distract attention or otherwise spoil the composition.

Of course, if it is to be a picture of a person engaged in some characteristic activity, objects that pertain to the activity properly belong in the picture, but to take a picture, for example, of a dainty maiden gathering flowers in the garden against a background of the family wash hanging on the line is not artistic composition. Let us take pains to exercise all the artistic judgment we possess in keeping our pictures free of the incongruous.

Drive Them Off The Highways

Some time ago it was predicted that with the advent of the warm summer weather which tempts people to enjoy outdoor life as much as possible the newspapers would carry stories of automobile accidents, recording the deaths of some and injury of a great many more.

The prediction is a safe one and is already being amply fulfilled. Even before the hottest summer months had arrived a number of smashups with their accompanying fatalities and injuries were reported in screaming headlines in the daily press.

Eyes witnesses of one accident in one of the prairie provinces report that a couple of men were driving a brand new car along a crowded highway towards one of the cities on a Sunday evening. With the speedometer recording 75 and 80 miles an hour they flashed past scores of cars laden with men, women and children returning from a day at the summer resorts.

As the speeding car tore past other automobiles, some of them travelling at almost equally unreasonable speeds under such traffic conditions, the occupants turned round and waved a derisive "ha, ha", gloating in their ability to "beat the other fellow". The inevitable happened. The driver lost control, or there was a blow out and the two occupants completed their journey to the city in an ambulance, broken limbs and pain-twisted features bearing mute testimony to their agonies. The erstwhile handsome car lay partly on the highway and partly in the ditch wrecked beyond the semblance of a vehicle.

Fortunately in this particular instance the two occupants of the car were the only persons to suffer, as a result of their recklessness, but for an hour or more they had jeopardized the lives and limbs of scores, perhaps hundreds of people using the highways in a legitimate and sane manner, including many women and children.

Such recklessness on the highway is nothing less than criminal and those who come to grief as a result of such misuse of the roads and motor vehicles have only themselves to blame. A worse feature, however, is the menace of such wild driving to other people. Even at moderate speeds of 35 and 40 miles an hour the highways are none too safe, but with speed-crazed individuals at the wheel the roads become potential and sometimes actual shambles.

While the police are on the watch for reckless fools and do all they can to protect legitimate users of the highways there are not enough of them on the job to ensure complete protection and it is doubtful if the provinces can afford to employ sufficient patrolmen to furnish immunity from all dangerous pests.

Under such circumstances the only safeguard for reasonable people is to arouse public opinion against criminals of this type to the extent that sane drivers will be willing to report them to the police and appear in court to testify against them. Such complaints, supported by adequate testimony, should inevitably result in cancellations of drivers' licenses, or at least suspension for a considerable period of time.

After all, the sensible driver, who reports the actions of crazy drivers who endanger the lives of others is merely carrying out the law of self-preservation and is doing a public service in the interests of his fellow men and women. No one would hesitate to report a wild man running amok with a knife or an axe, yet a wild man at the wheel of a powerful automobile is a much greater potential danger to the public.

No person should feel a bit squeamish about reporting dangerous violations of the laws of safety or harbor the notion that because he and his family have been safely passed it is none of his business. If two or three drivers report the recklessness of another their testimony should be ample to ensure conviction. If half a dozen or more report a case, the evidence would undoubtedly be regarded as overwhelming.

Not very long ago newspapers reported the organization of a new safety body, the Dominion Automobile Safety Council Inc., with headquarters at Montreal, coupled with the announcement that its chief function is to promote safety measures by educational means designed to cut down the motor car accident toll throughout Canada.

Such an organization can perform a very useful function to society in arousing public opinion and assist in dispelling the comparative apathy with which the general public appears to regard a very important question. The proposal that the co-operation of the driving public to report all cases of wild driving on the highways be sought, might well be recommended.

Such drivers should be driven off the highways.

Motor Roads In Britain

Increase In Traffic Is Causing Worry To Authorities
It is said that the British Isles have never been known better than they are today by more of those who inhabit them; and small wonder in view of the means of locomotion available, observes the London correspondent of the New York Sun.

Road traffic has more than doubled in five years. In Great Britain there are 178,000 miles of public highways, of which 43,000 are classified roads. The total number of vehicles using them last year was 2,581,000, as compared with only 873,700 in 1921. One person in every 19 now possesses an automobile. But there are 10,000,000 or more cyclists also using the roads.

According to Hore-Belisha, minister of transport, Britain, in the 20th century, has become the "most densely vehicled" country in the world, having 23 registered motor vehicles to the square mile as compared with seven in the United States. The increase has been so rapid, he contends, that engineers and surveyors have not been able to evolve the means of assuring the free flow of traffic in conditions of method and safety.

In the next five years $450,000,000 is to be expended on roads, and in that period it is also planned to construct 230 miles of cycle tracks and 750 miles of dual carriageways. Although increased safety for the cyclists will be assured by construction of cycle tracks such as are already widely in use on the continent, many of the cyclists resent the efforts to circumscribe their use of ordinary traffic arteries.

Japanese Zeppelin Service

Japan May Purchase Two Or More German Dirigibles

Japanese sponsors of ambitious plans for a trans-Pacific Zeppelin service found themselves faced with severe obstacles.

It was learned authoritatively, however, that the plans had not been abandoned.

High aviation sources said one group proposes three routes:

1. An airship service between Tokyo and Hankow, capital of Manchuria.
2. An airship line connecting Tokyo with Singapore or Batavia, via Shanghai and Hong Kong.
3. An aerial route from Tokyo to San Francisco or Los Angeles, via Honolulu.

All three schemes call for purchase of two or more German Zeppelins. A German dirigible expert and air pilot called in for advice returned to Germany without, so far as could be learned, reaching any agreement with the Japanese interests. The sponsors were informed German could not lend Japan any of her zeppelin experts and pilots except for a very limited time.

Skeena River Floods

Church Is Wrecked But Bible Left On Table Is Undamaged

The flood waters of the Skeena river wrecked the interior of the March Memorial church at Uak, situated on the river bank, but left the Bible undamaged on a small table, it was revealed in stories brought from the recently flooded area.

The church organ was overturned, chairs were scattered about the building and the linen cover over the table on which the Bible stood was muddy.

Another story from Uak concerns three hens that perched in high branches of a tree.

After the water dropped the hens were found under the trees where they had established a community nest in which were found four new-laid eggs.

Oriental Figure Of Speech

Story Of Jonah Is Mistaken Translation Claims Language Expert

The story of Jonah's three-day stay inside a whale arose from a mistaken translation centuries ago, according to data submitted by George M. Lamas of Washington.

Writing in "Gospel Light," Lamas, an expert in the Aramaic language of Bible times, said:

"According to the interpretation of dreams in the East, fish or whale means trouble, disturbance and decision. Jonah in the whale is an Oriental hyperbole, and means Jonah is in trouble, just as an American would say, 'he is in a hole,' or 'he is out of a hole.'"

"This American slang would be confusing to an Easterner, just as the term 'Jonah in the Whale' would be to a Westerner, unfamiliar with Oriental speech."

FORD GETS DEGREE

Years of work in the manufacturing field, resulted in educational recognition for Henry Ford, when the automobile magnate received an honorary degree of doctor of engineering at Michigan State College at East Lansing.

Should Be Other Ways

But Increased Taxation Appears

"For the current fiscal year, the Finance Minister expects a deficit of 'slightly less than $100,000,000.' These are astronomical figures!"

Why, in 1896—only 40 years ago—the total expenditures of the Dominion Government, chargeable to consolidated fund, amounted to a "mere" $36,000,000. At the turn of the century in 1901 the figure was $46,000,000. And on the eve of the Great War, in 1913, total expenditures amounted to $112,000,000—or just an even fifty million less than last year's deficit!

Is increased taxation the only remedy? Is there no room for greater economies in these times when every private business—every citizen—must economize?

Has every loop-hole of waste and extravagance been stopped?—Halt-free Herald.

Verbose Legislators

Millions Of Words Used During Session Of Parliament

During the recent session of parliament, lasting less than five months, members of the House of Commons orated approximately 3,240,000 words while senators were comparatively reticent with little more than 500,000 words recorded by Hansard.

Special committees of the house whose proceedings were recorded used more than 3,000 pages of Hansard with something like 2,230,000 words of evidence and argument, that which investigated, radio having the largest volume—about 500,000 words.

Reporting these proceedings and the general activities of the government and the members of parliament, The Canadian Press sent over its automatic printers to its members throughout the Dominion well over 600,000 words.

Probably well over 1,000,000 additional words were sent over the telegraphic wires by the score of special correspondents who are representing individual newspapers in the press gallery. The house of commons was in session 90 days.

The objects of the order are the encouragement and promotion of ambulance, hospital and other charitable work.

The order received a royal charter from Queen Victoria in 1888 as a revival of the military and religious grand priory dissolved by Queen Elizabeth in 1599. His Majesty the King is the sovereign head of the order.

Speakers Held To Time

Convention Of Health Authorities Run By Light Signals

A system of automatic lights similar to ordinary street traffic signals was used to keep speakers in order at the convention of the state and provincial health authorities of North America held recently in Vancouver.

Five minutes before the scheduled time limit of each speaker a green light flashed on the box-light apparatus set on his table. With one minute to go a yellow light appeared. When a red light came on time was up and whether or not he was finished the speaker had to sit down.

As a result of their signal system, the convention authorities were able to run their program on schedule.

Not Giving Up Flying

Hollick-Kenyon Returns To Pilot's Job After Holiday

Air Commodore Herbert Hollick-Kenyon, Antarctic flyer, isn't quitting flying for farming.

The reason he said, is that he "has to make a living." By inference he left it that his prospects of doing just that on an Okanagan fruit farm were not convincing. After a holiday with his wife and children at Ewing's Landing, B.C., he returned to Winnipeg and his pilot's job with Canadian Airways.

The possibilities of using cotton in road building may provide a market for two to three million bales a year.

Star Explosion

Light Reaches Mother Earth After Journey Of 3,000 Years

Old Mother Earth watched from a big seat one of the rarest shows, since the universe began—a star explosion that happened long before lehen.

The shepherds saw the star of Bethlehem in an outer rim of space—so far that the earth and the sun are next door neighbors by comparison—the star "blew up" some 2,000 or 3,000 years ago.

Civilizations rose and fell, but even light—travelling at 186,300 miles a second—could not give the earth the news of the blast until recently.

Man had suspected for a month that something had happened out there in the Milky Way, for a scientist in Holland had reported that cosmic rays—children of disintegrating matter—had been travelling to earth in greater and greater numbers from that direction.

On the night of June 28th, an amateur astronomer at Delphos, Ohio, L. C. Peitler, peeped through his telescope and saw a bright star that wasn't there the night before.

It was so bright he could see it through the telescope. It lay on the boundary line between two constellations, Cepheus and La Ceta, which are in the northwestern sky at sunset and directly overhead in early morning.

At Yerkes observatory of the University of Chicago, Dr. Otto Struve announced the star had been on astronomers' maps since 1893, and had not gotten any brighter by 1930, when its picture was last snapped.

Yacht To Be Scuttled

Famous Cutter Britannia To Be Sunk In English Channel

The famous royal racing cutter Britannia will be spared the indignity of the shipbreakers' yard and will be scuttled in the English channel.

Official orders for the sinking of the yacht, so closely identified with the late King George, were issued recently. A month ago it was announced the sails and rigging would be sold.

The Britannia was built in 1893 for King Edward VII. when he was Prince of Wales. The famous cutter won 231 first prizes and 120 other awards in 625 races in the course of 43 years of racing.

Legend Came True

Water Filled Pool In Devonshire When King George Died

The age old legend, "And when the pool fills with water . . ." came true at North Tawton, Devonshire, where King George V. died. The legend says that when the spring-fed bath pool there fills with water, a member of the royal family will die. The spring filled just before the death of the Prince Consort, Albert, husband of Queen Victoria, and of Queen Victoria herself and the Duke of Clarence, first son of King Edward VII. Three days after King George V. lay dead, the water vanished and cattle are grazing there once more.

Bird Foretells Rain

Rafael Ruenga, Mexican consul at Tampa, Florida, has a bird that tells him when it's going to rain, but he wants to get rid of it. The bird is a Mexican road-runner. Its bones ache in damp weather, Ruenga says, causing it to utter sharp cries before and during rain storms. But the bird disturbs his sleep, he said.

Memorial To King George

A memorial statue to King George V. to be erected near Westminster Abbey is expected to depict the late king in the uniform of an admiral of the fleet.

SAYS FRONTIER OF BRITAIN IS ON THE RHINE

Paris—Reiterating Stanley Baldwin's declaration that Britain's frontier is on the Rhine, Alfred Duff Cooper, British secretary of state for war, told the Association Franco-Bretagne:

"Your frontier is our frontier." Franco-British friendship, the minister declared, is not a question of sentiment or even of choice, but an "urgent necessity, a question of life or death for our two countries."

"There still are today many Englishmen who are so blind in their prejudices that they sincerely believe Britain entered the war from sheer kindness of heart solely in order to aid her friends, the French."

"We entered the war because our vital interests were at stake and because our lives were endangered."

"It is this kind of ignorance which from time to time leads Englishmen to propose reorientation of our foreign policy and the choice of other friends. They do not understand the nation is not free to choose at its pleasure its allies."

Referring to Britain and France, Duff Cooper said:

"They preach in Europe at present that liberty is a false ideal and that submission to authority will be the highest form of human activity. Such ideas confound nothing new. They are as old as tyranny and are completely foreign to the civilization of the western world."

"They preach that war itself is desirable and that the mind of youth should be impregnated with the principle that to fight one's kind is man's nature and that death on the battlefield should be our highest ambition."

"Such ideas are thoroughly loathsome. We fear that they are pregnant with terrible dangers and that if we permit them to triumph they will be a calamity for the world."

"That is why I affirm that not only our frontiers but our very ideals are in mortal danger. It is consequently on the two great democracies of the western world that now rests the terrible responsibility of saving not only our own persons but not the civilization we have created at the price of such great efforts."

Gigantic Air Base

United States Government Plans Project For Alaska

Seattle.—The Post-Intelligencer says Rep. Bryon B. Harlan (D, Ohio) of Dayton, Ohio, disclosed that the United States government plans to establish another Alaskan colony to create a gigantic naval air base to be operated by a permanent force of 20,000 men.

The newspaper quotes Harlan as saying he carried complete plans for the colonization project as he sailed aboard the U.S. fisheries vessel Brant for Alaska.

Col. Charles Marsh, chairman of the federal trade commission, accompanied Harlan.

"The second colony will be undertaken as soon as the success of the Matanuska colony is assured," Harlan was quoted.

"The Alaska base will be greater than that at Hawaii. Hawaii will be difficult to defend in case of war because it relies on the mainland for its supplies."

Message From King Edward

Canada Receives Thanks For Congratulations On His Birthday

Quebec.—King Edward asked Lord Tweedsmuir to extend to the people of Canada his "cordial thanks for their loyal congratulations and good wishes," on his 42nd birthday.

The King's message, received by the Governor-General, at present living at the vice-regal quarters of the Citadel, was in reply to a cable sent by Baron Tweedsmuir.

To Confer With Canada

London—Earle Page, deputy prime minister of Australia at present in London, will postpone his departure and remain in England for a week or so after the arrival from Canada of Hon. Charles Dunning, minister of finance, and Hon. W. D. Euler, minister of trade and commerce, in the hope an agreement may be reached on the problem of Pacific shipping.

A peace monument taller than any structure in the world may be erected in the heart of Berlin to display Germany's peaceful intentions to the world.

Left Without Debate

Parliament Proved Before Many Motions Were Dealt With

Ottawa.—Eight private-member motions designed to prompt government action in various directions looking toward betterment of the social and economic system were left high and dry on the House of Commons order paper without ever having gone beyond the printing stage.

Prorogation of parliament left six other private-member motions and one senate bill on the order paper in various stages of debate. These included the permissive sentence measure to authorize establishment of free foreign trade zones in Canada.

Debate was unfinished on motions to raise money by higher income tax to put all unemployed at work at prevailing rates of pay; to reform Canada's attitude toward the League of Nations; to guarantee fixed minimum prices to primary producers of grains; to revoke the empire trade agreements and to amend the criminal code.

Notice of motion that got no farther than the order paper included parliamentary government and law reform proposals; rescinding the soybean salmon treaty with the United States; a survey of Canada's national productive capacity; readjustment of the representation in the House of Commons; use of electrical energy in place of coal on railways and for heating purposes; that tariff protection be withdrawn from industries paying low wages; reduction on the national debt structure and the interest payable thereon; establishment of a system of national scholarships to aid qualified pupils in universities, colleges and technical schools.

Demand From Russia

Wants Free Passage Through Dardanelles For Submarines And Warships

Montroulez, Switzerland.—Foreign Commissar Maxim Litvinoff of Russia demanded Russian submarines as well as other warships have free passage through the Dardanelles.

His request, made of the Lausanne treaty signatories, in conference here, was in answer to a Turkish proposal under water craft be barred from the strategic straits which Turkey wishes to fortify.

Litvinoff declared he was unable to see why other countries should want to dispatch warships to the Black Sea unless they were sent on courtesy calls or on sanction missions for the League of Nations.

Litvinoff asked aircraft-carriers and submarines of non-Black Sea nations be barred from the Black Sea.

Japan insisted on complete reciprocity in the movement of warships in the Black Sea.

France took the stand powers not bordering on the Black Sea should be given unrestricted passage through the Dardanelles if acting under the mandate of the League or helping a victim of aggression under regional pacts.

Abolish Office

De Valera Decides To Do Without Governor-General

Dublin.—President Eamon de Valera announced in the dail that the office of governor-general would be abolished in the projected new constitution. Instead, he said, an elected representative of the people would be the ceremonial head of the state.

James McNeill, first governor-general of the Irish Free State, was appointed in 1922 and offered his resignation to the king on Oct. 3, 1932. His Majesty accepted it on advice from De Valera, president of the executive council.

His successor was Donald Buckley, a member of the dail who had played a prominent part in the 1916 Easter rebellion.

For some months before McNeill's resignation there had been friction between the governor-general and President De Valera over slight offers of the former by members of the Free State government.

Famous Singer

Former Edith Miller, Of Portage La Prairie, Dies In England

Gravesend, Eng.—Mrs. Max Colyer-Ferguson, who before her marriage won fame as a contralto singer, died here recently. She became known as the "Manitoba Nightingale". Mrs. Ferguson was born at Portage la Prairie, Man.

Winnipeg.—Mrs. Max Colyer-Ferguson was the former Edith J. Miller, daughter of the late W. W. Miller, postmaster at Portage la Prairie, Man. For many years, her beautiful contralto voice carried her to international renown as "the Manitoba Nightingale."

Miss Miller's musical career began officially when she was a student at Westminster Ladies' College, Toronto. She won the gold medal at the Toronto Conservatory of Music after studying under an Italian music master, Signor d'Auria.

She continued her studies for three years in Winnipeg, then moved to Europe, where she continued her music in London and Paris. In the latter city she was a pupil of the famous Madame Marchal.

Freight Disregarded Signal

Thirteen Persons Were Killed In Spanish Train Disaster

Leon, Spain.—The Madrid express collided head-on with a slow freight train inside a single track tunnel through a mountain near Ponferrada, killing 13 persons and injuring 28.

The signalman on duty said the signals were set as a warning for the freight to take a siding. Authorities decided the signal was not heeded, causing the collision.

Officials said the engineer of the freight train disappeared immediately after the disaster, and could not be found. His fireman and engineer and fireman of the express were killed.

SAYS NO NEED TO ASSUME WAR IS INEVITABLE

London.—"There is no need for panic or to assume that war is inevitable," declared Sir Samuel Hoare, first lord of the admiralty, in a speech at a dinner of the Royal Society.

No country in Europe desires war and it was "criminal folly" to assume that war was inevitable.

"But," he added, "there is so much inflammable material in Europe that a spark might start a conflagration unless great powers like ourselves are strong enough to make our influence felt in the cause of peace."

"We are re-arming to stop the drift to war. If the British army, navy and air force are adequately strengthened in time there will be no world war. British strength, particularly British naval strength, is one of the most potent factors of the peace of the world."

"If a well-balanced fleet, capable of defeating an enemy, keeping the seas open, equipped to go anywhere and concentrated upon its three essential duties—cover, cruising and convoy—can be built, in time, there will be no world war."

Successful Treatments

Medical Association Told Of Gastric Ulcer Cases

Victoria.—Of 40 cases of gastric ulcers, treated with regular recognized treatment, not with any innovations, 33 were apparently entirely relieved of symptoms of the trouble for five years or more after the treatment, Dr. E. E. Cleaver, Toronto, told the Canadian Medical Association.

The 40 cases reviewed were all people of fairly advanced years. The treatment was diet and a duodenal tube.

X-ray pictures were taken at the time of the first treatment and at the end, so that the results were studied closely.

Dr. Cleaver said gastric ulcer had a natural tendency to heal itself.

Motor Torpedo Boats

Six Boats Of New Design Handed Over To British Admiralty

Portsmouth, Eng.—The first of six new high-powered motor torpedo boats which British experts assert are likely to revolutionize naval design and construction was handed over to the admiralty.

The craft, which will be inspected by the king, is able to manoeuvre so deftly it is considered to be invulnerable to an air attack. It can make more than 40 miles an hour.

Carrying a crew of 10, the vessel is equipped with two torpedoes, which may be fired by wireless, and light gun armament. Eighteen of the boats, it is said, can be built at the cost of a single submarine destroyer.

Floods In England

Heavy Storms Cause Much Damage In Large Area

Liverpool.—Several persons were dead and large areas in Cheshire, Derby and Lancashire were flooded following heavy storms which swept England. The deaths were due to accidents or to the current heat wave.

Hundreds of houses were flooded along the reaches of the Mersey river, rising in North Derby and flowing into the Irish sea at Liverpool. Railway transportation was seriously hampered in places. Mersey Road station at Liverpool was under water.

Lifting Of Sanctions

Lloyd George Is Critical Of Action Of Government

Bawley, Derbyshire.—"Last night I saw the white feather embroidered across the Union Jack by a skilled and practiced hand," said David Lloyd George in a speech commenting on the government's decision to lead the move to lift sanctions and debate in the House of Commons.

"I am one among the many millions in this land who are humiliated by the spectacle," the former prime minister declared, referring in scathing terms to the government's "betrayal of Abyssinia."

"They had three foreign ministers undertaking the task," he said, "but one after another threw in the hand because he was afraid to tackle the job. We ought never to have taken the task in hand unless we meant to put it through."

"There is no sympathy anywhere on earth for this act of aggression."

"We are told—if you threaten sanctions against an aggressor, he may hit you in the eye. But is it really coming to this: That Britain won't do its duty for fear of a black eye?"

"We seem to be impotent with the whole British Empire behind us, impotent against one man—bluffed by Mussolini, fooled by Laval. The voices of the people and the voices of the dead are calling upon them to insist that Britain should lead the world again upon the path of right."

WILL ATTEND LEAGUE MEETING IN SEPTEMBER

Ottawa.—Prime Minister Mackenzie King will head Canada's delegation to the meeting of the assembly of the League of Nations at Geneva in September. He will also attend the coronation of King Edward and the Imperial conference in London next May.

Mr. King said he had asked Hon. Ernest Lapointe, minister of justice; Hon. C. G. Power, minister of pensions and health; and Hon. Ian Mackenzie, minister of national defence, to represent the government at the Vimy ceremony.

At the full meeting of the League assembly the revision of the covenant and reorganization of the League will be discussed.

Conservative leader, Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, commended Mr. King's decision and said it was highly desirable the prime minister should attend such an important meeting.

The assembling of the next session of parliament would depend on developments at Geneva. If important decisions were arrived at requiring parliamentary ratification, parliament might be assembled late in November of this year, Mr. King said. The government's present intention, however, was to call parliament earlier in January and endeavor to conclude before the King's coronation, May 12.

At the adjourned meeting of the assembly of the League, June 30, Canada will be represented by Hon. Philip Roy, minister to France; Hon. Vincent Massey, high commissioner in London, and Dr. W. A. Riddell, Canada's permanent advisory officer at the League of Nations, with Lord Christie of the department of external affairs as advisor.

NATIONAL BODY MAY TAKE PLACE OF LOAN COUNCIL

Ottawa.—Finance Minister Charles A. Dunning announced it is proposed to set up a national committee on financial questions composed of Dominion and provincial representatives. It will be established "on a purely voluntary basis."

Communications have been sent to the provinces asking for their suggestions for the setting up of the committee.

The finance minister gave out a statement in which he emphasized the "desire of the government to frequent meetings with the provinces for the mutual discussion of problems in the field of finance and taxation."

While the loan council legislation which it had been proposed to introduce into parliament had fallen by the wayside with the failure of the constitutional amendment to pass the senate, it was hoped to arrange for closer association of Dominion and provinces on matters of finance and taxation.

Subjects which might be considered by the proposed committee were mentioned by the minister. They included financial relations between the Dominion and provinces; methods of reducing "evils of multiple taxation"; possibilities of co-operation in tax administration; methods of achieving "more equitable, better balanced and more elastic tax systems"; methods of securing greater co-operation and coordination in the financial policies of Dominion and provinces; and clearer and more uniform methods of accounting.

Had the constitutional amendment brought down in the commons been approved by the senate, the intention, the minister said, was to set up loan councils in the case of those provinces desiring to participate. Also an advisory body to be known as the national finance council consisting of the Dominion minister of finance and provincial treasurers would have been created.

Mr. Dunning expressed the hope that such a body organized on a voluntary and advisory basis only, could, over a period of years, make a substantial contribution to the improvement of conditions in the field of public finance in Canada.

Would Not Shorten Hours

Geneva Labor Meet Favors Principle Of Paid Vacations

Geneva.—The international labor organization ended its annual conference after adopting the principle of paid vacations for workers and rejecting the universal 40-hour week.

Although six nations have already adopted the 40-hour week, C. H. Brammance of Denmark, chairman of the conference, announced in his report the shorter hours schedule would remain a future goal of the labor office rather than an immediate project.

The labor office ought not to abandon the 40-hour week, Harold Butler, director of the international labor organization, told the delegates. He recalled the 48-hour week, first proposed as early as 1848, was not put into practice until 1919, and that the 40-hour week was not accepted by any nation until 1931.

Manual For New Citizens

Would Impress On New Canadians Importance Of Their Citizenship Rights

Vancouver.—A proposal that the federal government print a manual which would be placed in the possession of all citizens of Canada to impress on them the importance of their citizenship rights was contained in a report submitted to the Association of Canadian Clubs by its president, Mr. Justice A. K. Dyar of Winnipeg.

Mr. Justice Dyar, who is chairman of a special committee on naturalization, also advocated some formal ceremony for the presentation of naturalization certificates. In Winnipeg these occasions were made an impressive ceremony, he said.

Sellastis Not Welcome

Berna, Switzerland.—The federal council asked Emperor Haile Selassie to stay out of Switzerland except for a visit to the League of Nations. The Swiss asked the Ethiopian monarch to "refrain" from living in the villa at Vevey as long as "the Italo-Ethiopian conflict is unsettled."
